MESSAGE FROM GYL'S FOUNDER

Dr. Raymond Cho

I am delighted and honoured to offer my warmest welcome to everyone attending the 13th Annual Forum of Global Youth Leaders Canada (GYL)!

GYL was founded with one clear goal: to empower young people to future leaders. As we emerge from the COVID-19 pandemic, the importance of leadership, and of our global community, has never been more evident.

We can all see how interconnected our world is and how actions taken in one part of the world can have ripple effects across the entire planet. This is why volunteering and giving back is so crucial to the success, and survival of humanity.

GYL is providing you with many of the tools you will need to help you be effective leaders in our communities. In return, we ask you to go and make a difference – each and every person that you help is creating positive ripples that help to lift all of us.

I feel truly blessed and privileged to be part of the GYL family with you. I hope that you feel a real sense of pride and accomplishment in all that you have, and will continue to achieve. This forum is both a showcase of the accomplishments of GYL members and also helps build the oneness that binds our communities together.

I'd like to also offer my sincere thanks to Secretary-General Charles Chang for his dedication and leadership in his inspiration and mentorship of our GYL youth. My appreciation also to all the organizers, volunteers and parents who, through their hard work, have made this year's events successful.

There is nothing more humbling and awe-inspiring than seeing our youth grow to become the leaders of tomorrow. To you we entrust our future and I am delighted to say that it is in amazing hands.

I wish you a productive and engaging forum as well as another successful year of leadership in action. Stay safe and be well!

Dr. Raymond Cho

Founder, Global Youth Leaders

MESSAGE FROM GYL'S SECRETARY GENERAL

Charles Chang

I congratulate Global Youth Leaders (Canada) and its members, volunteers and parents on another very successful year.

As we start to emerge from the COVID-19 pandemic, I am comforted in knowing that GYL members continue to be shining examples of leadership in academics, sports, the arts and community service – even in the most challenging of circumstances.

It continues to be my honour and privilege to lead this exceptional group of young people; some of whom will be graduating from GYL after very successful tenures with our program. I thank all of our graduates for your contributions, especially those who have left your indelible marks on GYL as exception leaders on our Executive Committee and in our various activities. I wish you the very best in what I know will be the brightest of futures.

For our returning GYL members, I encourage you to follow in the footsteps of our most successful graduates and take full advantage of the unparalleled opportunities that GYL offers to hone your leadership skills and serve the community. Your choice to pursue the path of leadership and learning will be of meaningful benefit both to you and to those around you.

As Warren Bennis, the pioneer of leadership studies said, “[t]he most dangerous leadership myth is that leaders are born – that there is a genetic factor to leadership. That's nonsense; in fact, the opposite is true. Leaders are made rather than born.”

GYL strives to empower the youth of our generation to become worldly responsible leaders. Although done remotely, GYL has still strived to help those in need amidst the restrictions placed due to the pandemic.

The progress that we have accomplished this year could not have been achieved without each and every one of our members. We commend them for their hard work, which has allowed for this organization to flourish.

Thank you everybody for another amazing year and we hope to see many new faces in the coming term!

SAMULNORI

Our GYL Samulnori team continued to learn more about samulnori this year, keeping the energy of the whole group alive with the amazing percussion. The GYL Samulnori team highlights the beauty of Korean traditional music and values the importance of revisiting traditions and passing on music to coming generations. Samulnori consists of four main instruments including: Buk, Janggu, Kkwaenggwari, and Jing that each represents one of the components of nature, cloud, wind, thunder, and rain, respectively. We vary the rhythm sequence between nanta, which focuses on rhythmic playing, and samulnori which focuses more on the musical aspect each year. But due to the circumstances with COVID-19, our team has decided to focus on just the Janggu this year.

We gathered every other Saturday with our amazing teacher Mr. Baek Choong-Heun. This allowed us to learn throughout the year as well as practice and refine our skills on our own time. Mr. Baek's continued support and passion even through the online meetings have helped us to stay active and interested in samulnori. Even with the tough conditions, our Samulnori team was still able to connect and create music that will hopefully help others recognize the beauty of our music. Although this year was difficult, we are glad our samulnori team has found a way to reconnect with our prideful Korean heritage. As part of a GYL team that promotes our Korean culture, we are full of enthusiasm to share our cultural pride, and we hope to continue promoting Korean culture and the joy of Samulnori in the upcoming years.

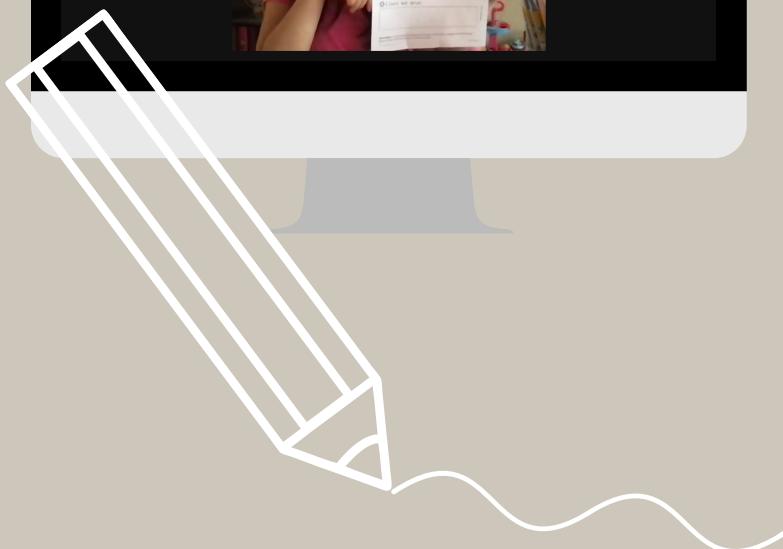

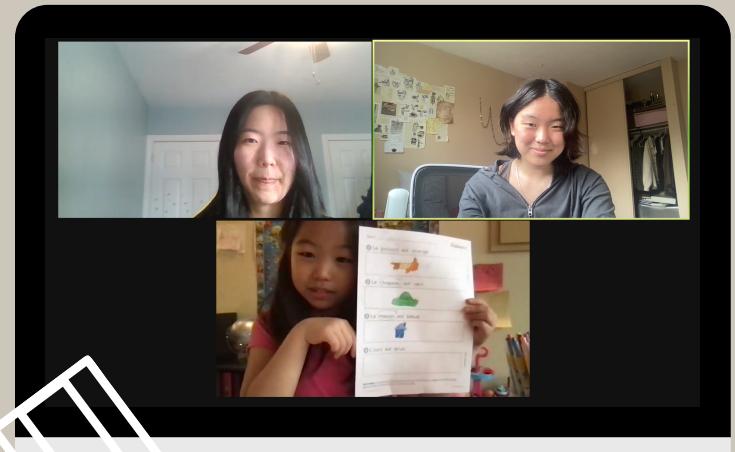

J'aime les pommes et les bananes.
Miam, miam.

Homework club is a year-long activity occurring every Saturday from 2:30 to 4:00. The goal of GYL's Homework club is to provide a supportive academic environment for a variety of students. More specifically, the four Homework club representatives and 75 GYL members volunteer at homework club by both preparing content (in the following fields: math, english, and french) and by helping to teach and work with numerous students from grades one to six. The GYL members not only provide specific academic resources and activities for the students to learn, but also offer guidance to fit the requests of students, such as schoolwork, tests, presentations/assessment, and other extracurricular work.

HOMEWORK CLUB

This year, to abide by the new restrictions set by Covid-19, we have moved the GYL homework club online by hosting weekly meetings using the application "Zoom." Here, the students are placed into their respective breakout rooms with their teacher where online resources and features are used to further enhance their learning experience. Throughout the school year, students develop trust and a personal connection with the volunteers who consider the individual needs of each student and modify their teaching methods to help students learn as effectively as possible. Moreover, the volunteers also take away a passion and appreciation for the services they provide to their community and develop countless leadership skills such as initiative, empathy, and creativity. Homework club incites an appreciation for volunteering on behalf of the volunteers, and simultaneously provides a fun and encouraging learning environment for youth.

CUMMER LODGE

In times of isolation, it can be calming to hear the voices of others. Due to COVID restrictions, we were forced to move all Cummer Lodge activities virtually, and thus our goal this year was to send the residents of Cummer Lodge activities which aimed to conquer boredom and come up with activities directly beneficial to the residents suffering from dementia. This is why this year, one of Cummer Lodge's activities is bi-monthly read alouds, recorded by our very own volunteers. These book reading videos are made with the goal of helping stimulate the brain of residents with dementia, as reading books is an amazing way to do so. Throughout 2021-2022, we have sent four one-hour long read aloud videos over to Cummer Lodge, providing the residents with over four hours worth videos over to Cummer Lodge, providing the residents with over four hours worth of heartwarming stories to listen to.

Along with the book reading activity, Cummer Lodge volunteers also made customized calendars for the residents at the nursing home to enjoy. The goal of this activity was to give the residents a colourful decoration for their rooms as well as a way to keep track of important dates or times. In order to accomplish this project, Cummer Lodge volunteers made 10 calendar cover pages individually, giving us around 400 calendar covers total. After they were all completed, the calendars were bound together, with the help of volunteers, and sent off for the residents in December as a holiday gift.

CASTLEVIEW WYCHWOOD TOWERS

Before the COVID-19 pandemic, volunteers gathered at Castleview Wychwood Towers weekly to provide movie nights where residents received treats and entertainment. In adaptation, last year's volunteers pivoted to writing pen-pals letters to help recreate the meaningful interactions volunteers had in previous years. Unfortunately, we could not return to in-person synchronous volunteering this year; however, continuing the pen-pals program, we were able to connect our volunteers with 78 residents.

Our volunteers corresponded with their residents biweekly, sharing information about their hobbies, goals, and lives. Due to technical limitations, we were unable to receive letters in response. Despite this, the positive feedback and appreciation from the residents time and time reminded us of the importance of volunteering and empowered us to continue writing as best we could.

For the holiday season, volunteers drew festive cards to liven the holiday spirit. To accommodate seniors who are not fluent in English and provide a creative way to challenge our volunteers, a number of them wrote in a different language than English to their pen-pals.

Although we are disappointed that we could not return in person this year, we are gratified with our work this year and are optimistic for a future where we can see residents face-to-face again. Thank you to everyone for another successful year at Castleview, and we hope you can continue to put smiles on our residents' faces in the coming years.

STRING & BAND ENSEMBLE

The Ensemble experienced some difficulties in the beginning as we started off everything online. However, due to our members' effort, we were able to overcome the difficulties.

Thanks to our Ensemble members', GYL Ensemble 2021-2022 year has been filled with wonderful music. We were very lucky to have such talented musicians willing to collaborate together to perform as a group. An impressive thirty-three of our GYL members came together in our Ensemble to practice and perform a great selection of music from orchestra classics to suites. The Ensemble practiced some beautiful and advanced music such as 'Nimrod' by Elgar, 'The Nutcracker' by Tchaikovsky, and fun Christmas Carols. Improvements were shown in all thirty-three musicians as the weeks progressed. We really appreciate everyone's effort, including our amazing conductor, Ms. Yang. Ms. Yang is a passionate conductor and is our role model. We thank her a lot for her leadership, and we wish to have her as our conductor next year as well.

Hopefully next year, we can have rehearsals and performances in person so that we can interact more with each other!

Public speaking workshop is a voluntary 4 week course that aims to allow members to develop their public speaking skills in a safe and supportive learning environment. Coached by our own secretary general, Charles Chang, the public speaking workshop is a four week course that aims to improve all aspects of public speaking, including: preparation, research, digital presentations, tone, pitch, volume, speed, and body language. Through the online learning format, members learned about presenting remotely and preparing digital presentations.

Through this, members were able to earn experience presenting online, as well as preparing and incorporating slides or multimedia components into their presentations. This year, the public speaking workshop implemented a debate-style speech format, which included both an affirmative side and a negative side on relevant topics in popular culture. Although the workshop was online this year, this challenge did not take away from the experience that GYL members were a part of. From personal feedback to choice in topics, public speaking workshop is catered to each and every GYL member. Through the public speaking workshop, over 60 GYL members were able to improve their public speaking skills this year.
